PAYMENTS TO BE MADE TO INDIAN DESCENDANTS

The following information was sent to us by Mrs. Mary Lucile Parker Swinney of Clarendon, Texas: "A new book has been published by the Arts and Crafts Museum, Tahlequah, Oklahoma, listing all Cherokee Indians who were ever on role, their Indian names, and their descendants for five generations. The book sells for $15.00. Anyone who thinks they may have Cherokee ancestors should check this book, as Cherokee descendants will soon be receiving capital payments from the government, if they can furnish proof of ancestry.

"Anyone who is searching for information on Indian ancestors might want to contact the Southwest Indian Organization, 334 N. Rider, Pampa, Texas 79065. This organization is composed of members of the Cherokee, Creek, Choctaw, Chickasaw and Seminole tribes. Officers are George B. Hause, chief; Marland P. Hays, subchief; and Mary F. Mason, secretary-treasurer."

CEMETERY LAWS IN ARKANSAS

References are to Arkansas Statutes 1947 Annotated (1964 Replacement). Sections 41-3701 through 41-3714 prohibit removal of bodies from graves; opening graves without proper Court Orders; malicious injury to graves or monuments; making entries, slopes, pits or mining in cemeteries; enclosing any cemetery unless access to same by automobile is provided by gate or otherwise; placing debris, brush, tree tops or rubbish on cemetery grounds; or to disturb, damage or carry away any marker in such cemetery. Penalties are set out for violating these provisions.

The most recent case on appropriating cemetery land is found in Bowen vs. Hooker, 237 Arkansas 250; 327 S. W. 2d 257. There the Court held that the presence of any signs showing land used as a cemetery puts one on notice who buys this land it is subject to cemetery purposes and once dedicated and in use as a burial ground may not be sold voluntarily or through judicial proceedings in any manner as to interfere with uses or purposes to which it was dedicated and devoted.

The mere disuse or lack of continued interments does not constitute abandonment since a cemetery is never abandoned nor loses its character and identity as such until the bodies reposing there are removed by friends, relatives or proper public authority and cemetery includes not only lots for depositing bodies of the dead, but avenues, walks and grounds for shrubbery and ornaments. All purposes must also be regarded as consecrated to a public and sacred use.

This is under the jurisdiction of the Office of the Prosecuting Attorney. If you know of a violation, get in touch with your Prosecuting Attorney or his Chief Deputy in your county.

LIFE OF HENRY ANTONE PAULMAN

by
James Southerland Upton

Henry Antone Paulman was born in Germany in 1828. He was brought to this country in 1832 by his father, Lewis Antone Paulman. His father was a member of the Brethren Church that did not believe in war and brought his son here so that he could escape military conscription in Germany. In this country they first lived at Anderson, S. C., later at Greenville, S. C.

In 1846, Henry A. Paulman m. Lydia Antonette "Ann" Walker, the only surviving child of Dan and Sophia Carter Walker of Richmond, Va. Ann was born on June 8, 1825. After her mother died in 1828, her father sent her to Greenville, where she made her home with an uncle and aunt, John and Amanda Watson. Henry worked for the Watsons when they married.

Henry and Ann moved to Spring Place, Ga., where he worked at a lumber mill. Here their first child, Sophia, was born. Later they lived briefly in Atlanta, where Thirsa Amanda was born. They soon moved further west to Mobile, Ala., then by boat to New Orleans, La. From New Orleans they went by boat up the Mississippi and Ouachita Rivers to Moro Bay, Ark. From here they went overland to Lanark, Bradley Co., Ark., where they made their home with Ann's uncle and aunt, Samuel and Rebecca Carter.

Henry's father had come with them to Lanark. Later he moved to Camden, where he remarried and later moved to Texas and California. He was not heard from after that.

Henry and Ann settled on a farm site close to the present town of Bearden in a community known as Salem. Here eight more children were born to them: Emma, William, Lizzie, Mary, Sarah, Rebecca, Lydia Jane and Samuel.

When the Civil War came in 1860, Henry stayed out of military service as long as he could. This was because of his pacifist beliefs and also because he had ten children to take care of. Recruiting pressure was brought to bear on Henry and other neighbors, and he went to Camden where he enlisted on March 26, 1863. He became a private in the 3rd Regiment Arkansas Inf. He wrote Ann four letters after he left, the first written from Camden on March 26, 1863:

My dear wife,

It is with the greatest of pleasure that I write you these few lines which will inform you that I am well at this time, but I cannot say how long I can say this for I --- orders today to leave but I don't know where. Some say one place and some another. I suppose that we will go to Virginia.

I want you to go to Mrs. Harris and tell her to give up them cows. Get old John Nutt or Fike, one or other, to go with you. I recon that you can get corn at Camden. Get Ben Clemons to attend to it for you. I want you to do the best you can and keep in good heart as could be expected.

Remind the children of what I told them to be obedient to their mother and if I should never see you all anymore, I want the children to remember me and you also remember me in your prayers and pray that I may return home again safe and sound.

Try to get some person to attend to them shoats and not let them go wild and also keep the children at home and make them work.

Get Mr. Fike to send Luke to come and cut your wheat when it gets ripe. I want you to get my gun. James Sullivant had it. I suppose it is at Wm. Sullivants. Also send and get them wheels at the mill. You will have to get you black smithing done where you can.

I have nothing more at present. I will write again as soon as I have the opportunity and all I can say is do the best you can and remember me.

So I will close.

Yours truly, H. Paulman.

The newly sworn-in soldiers went down the Ouachita River and up the Mississippi to Natchez, Miss. The second letter was written from Brookhaven, Miss. on April 5, 1863. You will notice he spelled his last name two ways, Paulman and Palmon.

My dear wife,

I take this opportunity to drop you a few lines to let you know that I am well and hope these few lines may come to home and find you in doing the same. Expect to leave here today at eleven o'clock. I have had a hard time of it but have stood it fine. I have not any war news either do I want any. Times is hard here. Everything is hi and nothing a that. I want you to do the best you can and I will do the same. I want you to keep your stock together and keep them gentle if you can and make what you and the children can. Maybe I will get back. I must come to a close. Remember me as beloved husband as long as I live.

A. Palmon.

These new recruits were to be replacements in the 3rd Reg. Ark. Inf. with General Robert E. Lee's army in Virginia. The third letter was written from Richmond, Va. on Apr. 13, 1863. He had left Camden on March 26th and arrived in Richmond on April 13th. After leaving Natchez they went overland to Brookhaven. Here they took the Jackson and Great Northern Railroad to Jackson. At Jackson they took the Southern Mississippi Railroad and the Alabama and Mississippi Railroad to Selma, Ala. and Atlanta, Ga. Here they took the Atlantic Railroad into Richmond. At Atlanta Henry must have remembered happier days when he and Ann came to north Georgia as bride and groom, seeking to find a place for themselves to settle and raise a family. This trip to war, according to Henry's letters, was not a happy experience.

Richmond, Va.

April 13, 1863

Dear wife and children,

I take this opportunity of riting a few lines to inform you of my health and to inquire after yours. This leaves me in reasonable health with the exception of a bad (cold) which is better than it has been, for it has been very bad. I hope these few lines may find you and the children in good health and in enjoyment of all other blessings. We left Camden on the 26th of March and reached this place on the 13th of April and since we landed here we hear that this regiment is somewhere on the black water in North Carolina and we well start there tomorrow. We hear that there is battle pending there wheather it comes on or not. Our rations here are very short. We heard before we came here that we would get a plenty but it ain't so. It is one quarter of lb. of meat per day and some hard crackers and them without shortning or salt. One of our men has been left in the hospital sick, and Hansel Williams is very sick at this time. I want you to hurry the children with their work and make all you can.

Tel Sophy to be smart and if ever I get Home, I will bring her a present. Tell Sam to be a good boy. Direct your letters to Co. I 3rd Ark. Regiment, Richmond, Va.

Your husband til death

A. Paulman.

To L. A. Paulman

The fourth letter was his last letter that Ann received. It is written from an Army camp on the Rapidan River in North Virginia on May 15, 1863.

Dear Companion,

I once more take my pen in hand to drop you a few lines to inform you of my health and to inquire of yours. I haven't been well for several weeks but I think that I will mend. Hoping this may find you all in good health and the best of blessing. We reached camp at Suffolks on the 17th of April and they were pickett fighting and continued until the 3rd day of May. We left there that night and traveled all night. There was a good deal of shelling and some I don't know the number on either side we came from their to (N. C.) and left there on the 9th of this inst.

General Lee had a battle on the 2nd and 3rd of this month he gained a victory. Our top was some 8 thousand the Yankeys top was 70,000 so reported, but we don't know the exact number. We taken some 8 or 10,000 prisoners. They are making preperations for a fight at this place. They are talking of fortifying here.

This makes the fourth letter that I have rote to you, but haven't received any answer from you as yet if you can't send letters across the river by mail, you must give them to Ben and get him to send them across the river by hand if he can see any one that is coming over. You over there can tell better about that than I can.

You must send word to Billy Gammils family that he is here and that he is well. He rote a letter the other day and started it by mail, but I don't know whether it will get there or not.

We left Andy Johnson and William was left at Weldon sick and haven't heard from them since. James Clemmons and Black was left at Petersburg. They haven't been in Camp yet.

It is supposed we will draw pay today. If I thought it was safe I would send you some but I am afraid you would never get it. You can't imagine how bad I want to see you and the children. You must continue in praying for me as there is know chance to see you until the war is over that I know of.

I want you to be sure to rite all the nuse that transpired since I left there. Give my best respects to Nelson Fike and Wages. You must keep all of the children at home and not let them be running about over the settlement. I will close by sending my best love to you and the children. Hoping the Lord may bless you all. Nothing more only remains.

Your loving husband and father, til death fairwell.

A. Paulman.

To L. A. Paulman

P. S. Direct your letter to me

Co. I, 3rd Ark. Regiment, Richmond, Va.

Henry was taken captive July 3, 1863 at the Battle of Gettysburg. He was wounded in the battle of Devil's Den. He was placed in prison at Fort Delaware, Delaware. The Fort was on Pea Patch Island near Wilmington, Delaware, in the middle of the Delaware River between New Jersey and Delaware. Thousands of Confederate soldiers were imprisoned here. Hundreds died from sickness and injury. There was only one doctor. Food was scarce and everywhere there was filth. Fort Delaware was another Andersonville, the worst prison in the South, in Georgia. In addition to being wounded, Henry became ill with typhoid fever and died Sept. 1, 1863. He and many hundreds are buried in a mass grave in Salem, New Jersey. The cemetery is called Finn's Point National Cemetery.

Henry's beloved Ann did not hear from Henry while he was in Fort Delaware. In fact, when Ann died on July 18, 1908, she did not know what had happened to Henry. She only knew he went away to war and never returned.

Henry Anthony Paulman was my great-grandfather. His children were:

Sophia Paulman, who married Ralph Croft Southerland.

Thirsa Amanda Paulman, who married Wm. Lewis.

Emma Paulman, who married James Strickland.

William Paulman, who died in infancy.

Mary Paulman, who married Joseph Colvert.

Sarah Paulman, who married George Hopkins.

Rebecca Paulman, who married John Sullivan.

Lydia Jane Paulman, who married Walter Lindsey.

Julia Elizabeth Paulman, who married Thomas Wilkins.

Samuel Paulman, who married Julia Scroggins.

These children have hundreds of descendants scattered over South Arkansas and many other states. They are organized into a Paulman Family Association and the author of this article is Historian for the Association. I have the four original letters quoted in this article.

THE BULLOCK FAMILY

Josiah William Bullock, my gr-grandfather, was born in 1836. We found his full name in the marriage records, Calhoun Co., Ark. He was 23 years of age when he m. Sept. 1, 1859, to Elizabeth Ann Halsell. In the 1860 census for Calhoun Co., we learned he was born in Tenn. Josiah and Elizabeth Ann had a little girl born some time in 1860, but she did not live. My grandfather was born Sept. 19, 1861. He was named John (for her father, John Calvin Halsell, Sr.) Chris (for Josiah's father) Bullock.

Until 1968 we did not know anything about Josiah's father, but with the help of Norman E. Gillis of Shreveport, La., we found my gr-gr-grandfather in the 1850 census for Lafayette Co., Mississippi:

J. C. Bullock	53	M	Farmer	N. C.
Tabitha Bullock	52	F		Ala.
Nancy McCain	20	F		La.
Sarah A. McCain	18	F		La.
Josiah W. Bullock	14	M		Tenn.
Harriet N. Bullock	12	F		Miss.

Now this raises more questions. Who are the McCain girls? Are they step-sisters or half-sisters to Josiah? Is Tabitha his own mother or stepmother? When and where did J. C. Bullock and Tabitha marry? But we had found my gr-gr-grandfather, because my gr-grandfather was 14, the right age, and born in the right place.

I had not known my gr-grandfather's sister was named Harriet, so when I received the following census for Arkansas Co., Ark., Maurice twp., 1860, it had not meant anything to me:

Josiah Bullock	63	M	Carpenter	N. C.
Harriett N. Bullock	21	F		Miss.
John M. Coopen(r)	27	M		Unknown

However, in the light of the 1850 Lafayette Co., Miss., this had to be my gr-gr-grandfather and his name was Josiah Chris Bullock. In checking the tax records for Arkansas Co. in 1861, Josiah was already gone. So he has been lost after 1860, and still to be found before 1850. But we do know he must have been born ca 1797 somewhere in N. C. But where?

A first cousin, Ronald E. Bullock, is helping me in this search. He learned of a Josiah Bullock in Edgecombe Co., N. C. in the 1790 census, so he started out to learn if he might be the grandfather to our gr-grandfather, Josiah William Bullock (1836-63). The following is from his research:

According to Edgecombe County Minutes for Nov. 29, 1810 (p. 340), Joseph Bullock, son of Celia Bullock and orphan of Joseph Bullock, was 13 years and 6 mos. old as of that date. This would imply that he was born about May 29, 1797.

The case would be rather a good one if the names agreed, so let us examine this further. It is well known from many sources that Celia Crisp was married to Josiah Bullock and not Joseph Bullock as reported above. On Nov. 29, 1799, the Edgecombe County Court stated that the widow Celia Bullock had not yet qualified as administratrix of Josiah Bullock. Therefore, it seems reasonable to believe that the son Joseph was also named Josiah and in view of the fact that Celia Bullock's maiden name was Crisp, it seems likely that my gr-gr-grandfather was Joseph Crisp Bullock, born in May, 1797 to Josiah and Celia Crisp Bullock of Edgecombe Co., N. C. After all our gr-grandmother could neither read nor write and would pronounce the name of her son as it sounded to her. Can any of our readers answer the Chris-Crisp puzzle?

THE MARSH FAMILY

by

Mrs. Leister E. Presley

Roland Marsh was born and educated in North Carolina, but moved to Tennessee with his parents when quite young. There he married Sarah Webb, also a native of N. C., and a daughter of Elisha and Sarah Webb. Roland Marsh was in Warren Co., Tenn. in 1825, but there were no Marshes on the 1820 census, neither does Elisha Webb appear there in 1820. Roland and Sarah Marsh both died in Tenn. in 1835.

CEMETERY ON YOUNG'S FARM, PIKE COUNTY, ARKANSAS

Located 3 miles east of Nathan, Ark. on road to Murfreesboro; on top of hill where road makes a sharp right turn--house on east and barn on north. Behind barn are two rises on hill. Graves located on 2nd rise, about 1/4 mile or less from barn in a clump of trees. Overgrown with weeds and brush. I think this is in S. E. 1/4 of Sec. 33, but would like someone to send me the exact location. -- Paul L. Springer, 1122 N.W. 97th St., Oklahoma City, Oklahoma

There are 10 unmarked graves, one of which is supposed to be my gr-grandmother's first husband, Baleon Bullock, who died late 1858 or early 1859. Baleon Bullock's step-mother was a Horton; John Horton above is probably her father. Baleon's father, "Blunt", is also buried here. Baleon had a brother, Bill. (Copied June 6, 1963, 7:15 a. m. --- P. My father's families, the Arnold and Dean families, are supposed to have settled in Searcy Co., Ark. in 1838-39. Third gr-grandparents, Jacob and Rebecca Thompson Arnold and Eleazer and Elizabeth Dean, had farms near Bear Creek. ## PAYNE

Recently I had the good fortune to find in the Denver Public Library an unpublished manuscript compiled in Breckinridge Co., Ky. in 1921, having to do with the Payne family.
