ACROSS THE DESK OF THE PRESIDENT

"Calling All Vernons!" Vernon Vignettes, Volume I, Number 1, Fall, 1969, published by the Vernon Family Association of America, appeared December, 1969. Application for membership in the association asked for data on all Vernons. Dues of $5.00 included the publication in addition to full participation in all of the activities of the association, and should be sent to The Vernon Family Association of America, 1782 South 25th East, Salt Lake City, Utah, 84108.

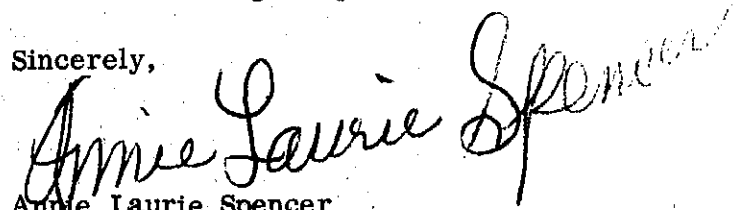

Vernon Vignettes has an impressive Board of Compilers composed of Jean Vernon Drotts, Richland, Washington; T. Vance Little, attorney of Nashville, Tenn.; V. Earline Robinson, 386 Glenwood Ave., Daly City, Calif.; Elizabeth Vernon Wilkins, Bradenton, Florida; and the editor, Richard Thomas Colquette, 2616 Leaf Lane, Shreveport, La., 71109, who calls himself "Double Vernon."

Officers of the association read like a list of Who's Who of America, and many of them are in this publication. They are from New York to California; from Florida to Washington State. And the family is of Rockingham County, North Carolina to Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas, before scattering throughout the United States.

THE INGRAM FAMILY

by

W. E. BAILEY

The name Ingram is an old established name which has been in the Enola locality of Faulkner County many years before there was an Enola. Alexander Gardon Ingram was born in Virginia, July 18, 1820. He and his wife, Mary Dewitt Walker, who was born in Illinois on January 10, 1824, came to Arkansas in 1852 from Kentucky and settled on what is known today as the Sam Hall place.

Shortly after the Ingrams arrived in that part of the country, the community was given the name Ingram Springs, because there was a fine spring which supplied water for their needs, as well as for their neighbors. The community still goes by that name. Also, the cemetery was given the name of the family.

Some of the neighbors of the Ingrams who moved to the community from different parts of the country in the mid-1800's were: John Hardin, who settled in 1837 east of the Cadron on the old Military Road, or better known as the Des Arc - Springfield Road; the Matthews, who came from Gate County, South Carolina in 1851; and names like Allen, Bowie, Hinkle, Alexander, Gore, Dilaha, Kuykendall, Thomas and Sanders.

These early settlers were from different parts of the country, but they all got acquainted, drank from the same spring, helped one another with house-raising; their children got married, and in a short time, they were all related in one way or another.

Alexander and Mary's first child was Elizabeth S. (Betty) Ingram, born on Dec. 20, 1843. Betty married Jack Starr. She ran away and married against her father's will and never returned to his home. Jim Starr, their son, lived in Texas.

Alexander and Mary's second child was Sterling Sebastian (Bud) Ingram, born Oct. 16, 1844. He was the first to be buried in the Ingram Cemetery. When he was only a teenaged boy, he was hunting in the woods with one of his brothers. He cut notches on a hickory tree and said to his brother, "This is where I want to be buried when I die." He got sick and died in less than a year.

Alexander and Mary Ingram's third child was Mary Adaline Ingram. She was born on October 12, 1846. She married Thomas Alexander, who was an uncle of Sarah Alexander, mother of James T. Ingram, and also the step-uncle of Alexander Ingram.

Alexander and Mary's fourth child was Sarah Jane Ingram, born on Feb. 6, 1848. She married Hiram Allen.

The fifth child of Alexander and Mary was William Alexander Ingram, born Dec. 28, 1849. William married Sarah Ann Emmaline Alexander and their children were: William Alexander (Alex), John Anthony, Miranda, James, Thomas (Jim), Elijah M. (Lige), A. Logue and two infant girls.

The sixth child of Alexander and Mary was Georgia Ann Ingram, who married George Armstrong.

The seventh child of Alexander and Mary was Miranda A. Ingram, who was born December 16, 1853. Miranda was the first of the children to be born in Arkansas. She married Wesley Gore. Shortly after their marriage they moved to Illinois, where he had lived, then to Kentucky, where he had a tobacco factory, then back to Arkansas.

The eighth child of Alexander and Mary was Johnathan J. Ingram, born Dec. 23, 1855. Unmarried, he died at the age of 22.

The ninth child of Alexander and Mary was Jessie Carter Ingram, born Feb. 7, 1858. He married Esther Ormond of Grapevine in Grant County. They had four children: Nancy Belle, Cornelia, Jessie Loranzo and Marinda. After the death of Esther on Dec. 31, 1892, Carter married Matt Farmer, and they had one daughter, Jessie. Later Carter married Sarah Connell.

THE INGRAM FAMILY

The tenth child of Alexander and Mary was Ambrose H. Sevier Ingram, born Jan. 10, 1860. Ambrose married Amanda Hardin who was the widow of Johnathan Hardin the youngest son of the pioneer and big land owner, Johnathan Hardin.

The eleventh child of Alexander and Mary was DeWitt Clinton Ingram, born Feb. 21, 1862. He married Dora Dillaha and had children: Effie, Ambrose Clinton, James Franklin, William Allen (Dink), John Wesley (Wes), Artie and Jack.

The twelfth child of Alexander and Mary was Lorenzo D. P. Ingram, born May 2, 1864. He married Alice Gore and they had twelve children: Earthy, Winnie and Pete, who died in childhood; Eva who married Sam Hall, Hermon, Urus, Jebedee, William A., Earl, Lois (died at 14), Georgia and Taft.

The thirteenth child of Alexander and Mary was Thomas Logan Ingram, born January, 1867. He married Betty Tarlton, who was a cousin of the Tarltons in Conway now. Thomas became a Baptist minister and moved to Texas.

The fourteenth child was Richard James Ingram, born Feb. 23, 1869. Unmarried, he died at the age of 67 in 1936 and was buried in the Ingram Cemetery.

INGRAM CEMETERY

There are only 42 graves in the Ingram Cemetery and only 23 of these have markers. The cemetery is about one-quarter mile from Ingram Springs. This small one-acre cemetery is located in the SW 1/4, N.W. 1/4, Sec. 22, T7N, R12W. The deed transferred from J. B. Wood to L. D. Ingram on Dec. 2, 1904. -- W. E. Bailey, Enola, Arkansas.

LOVELACE CEMETERY, WITCHERVILLE, SEBASTIAN CO., ARKANSAS

by
Mrs. Wanza Presson

Lovelace Cemetery is in Witcherville, Sebastian County, on Highway 71. Witcherville was called Salem until there was so much confusion over the name, as there was more than one town called Salem in Arkansas. The name was changed to Witcherville, after W. J. Witcher, who came here in 1850 from Virginia and was one of the first settlers in this area.

DESHA COUNTY CEMETERIES

During 1968-69 several groups and individuals have been copying cemetery inscriptions in Desha County. We were appalled at the conditions we found. Floods, time and, most of all, neglect have done irreparable damage. Thanks to the surveys, people are beginning to appreciate the historical value of old burying grounds and are making an effort to preserve what we have left. -- Mrs. J. H. ## HOLLY GROVE CEMETERY, TRIPPE, DESHA COUNTY, ARKANSAS

Holly Grove Cemetery is at Trippe in Desha County, Arkansas, on the McGehee-Arkansas City Highway. The cemetery property adjoins that of Delta Country Club on both sides of the highway. Maude Trippe Bowden, McGehee, who made the survey Nov. 6, 1968, said:

Thirty unmarked graves on side next to the bayou, fully that many on opposite side of highway where the old church once stood. The church was used during the early 1900's as a school until it burned. Six graves marked at one time with hand carved wooden head boards were behind the church. All of the many graves were marked at one time. The church was built by Grandfather Trippe, and he gave the land for the cemetery, about two and one-half acres, on either side of a narrow country road. The holly trees were planted in front of the church and along the sandy road. Encroachment accounts for the smallness on one side. Infringement will also be found next Crooked Bayou.

GEORGE

David E. George died at Enid, Oklahoma Territory, Jan. 13, 1903, alone, broke and despondent. He was a part-time house painter, a drifter in the brawling Territory. After his death the story was started that he was really John Wilkes Booth, the man who shot President Lincoln. It made a big splash in the newspapers and much has been written on the subject of his actual identity. The body was embalmed and to this day has never been buried. On a 1902 insurance application he gave his name as David Elihu George, born June 14, 1844 at French Camp, Miss. In 1902 he is known to have visited "home", somewhere in Arkansas. Two names crop up in connection with this man: William Bailey George "of Arkansas" and a nephew, Willy or Wilty George. I am trying to find out just who this man was, if it is possible at this late date. My interest is historical, not genealogical, but in this case it amounts to the same thing. If anyone has any clues, please write me.

GRAY - WILSON - McMURRIAN

I would like to find the death date of William Carroll Gray and his wife, Ann Elizabeth Wilson, buried in the Wilson Cemetery in Centerville, Ark. Theirs is a double grave surrounded with a rock wall. Next to them is a single grave with the same rock wall. Who is buried there? Was it his sister? I'm told that two of their sons, James David and John Wesley Gray, placed the stone wall around the two graves. Ann Elizabeth m. George Maddox after W. C. Gray died. She married him in 1887.

Ann Elizabeth's father was David S. Wilson. Who was his first wife? When did they die? Where are they buried? Where are they from? Ann Elizabeth's sister, Mary Jane Wilson, m. Greenbriar McMurrian. Were they parents of Belle Zora McMurrian (my grandmother)? Were there other children? Who were G. V. McMurrian's parents? I believe he was from Greenbriar, Ark. (Faulkner Co.) Belle Zora m. These families were all long time residents of Faulkner Co., Ark. and I believe the Grays came from Murfreesborough, Tenn. A cousin says there are Grays and Wilsons in the McNew Cemetery. Has this cemetery been copied?

LIGHTFOOT

I am trying to determine the accuracy of Carter's "Arkansas Territorial Papers", Vol. XXI, page 869, where he lists Henry J. Lightfoot. It is my belief that this should be "Henry T." as the name of Henry Taylor Lightfoot appears in the 1840 census of Arkansas and the name Henry J. does not.

My gr-grandfather was Elijah Holiday Lightfoot and appeared in the Territorial Papers above the name of Henry T., Clark. Elijah Holiday Lightfoot was born Nov. 28, 1810, Mercer Co., Ky., m. Rebecca Ligon. Henry Taylor Lightfoot was born Feb. 22, 1787, Harrodsburg, Ky., son of Philip and Margaret Fry Lightfoot from Culpeper Co., Va. He married Nancy Webster in Mercer Co., Ky., Nov. 18, 1804. Elijah Holiday Lightfoot died in Pittsburg, Texas. I am searching for the location of my grandfather's grave. He was James Henry Shepherd who died near Harrison and Conway and was buried there in April, 1874. His wife was Eliza Ann Blythe. ### STANDLEE

I have a book "Arkansas - A Guide to the State", published in 1941. It referred to John Standlee, a trapper, wandering up the Arkansas River in 1778, picked a spot at the mouth of the Cadron Creek to form a settlement. He returned in 1814 and built a house on the spot. I understand a plaque has been erected there.

WHITE - THOMPSON

My gr-grandparents were William F. White and Mary Thompson White. In 1880 census they were listed in Clark Co., Ark. with children William A., James F., James L. and Samuel K. Mary Thompson White had a brother, Bill Thompson, who was a minister of the Christian Church. I am seeking any information on their background.
