THE PRESIDENT'S PAGE

October, 1985

A lot is going on, and we are grateful for the increased participation of members. For example, we have a new Library Committee to work with our Exchange Editor. That means the work is spread among more people, saving a lot of wear and tear on the nerves of one willing worker.

Dr. and Mrs. Marion S. Craig have donated a 278-volume research library to AGS! These books are being prepared for shelving and will be in use very shortly. We are indebted to the Craigs, and our appreciation will be expressed formally and publicly in the Spring Seminar 1986.

AGS has a new photocopier in the Editor's office--another time saver. Garland County 1890 records have been published--quite a feat since that courthouse burned twice before 1907. Some ingenious detours had to be made to develop these records, but the results are excellent.

Elections have been held, and the names of the current Board and the slate of elected officers for 1986 will appear in the first issue of the Historian next year. Welcome to all new hands on board.

In the Fall Seminar, Wendy Elliott did a good job of illustrating how Land Records can be extremely helpful in solving genealogical problems and puzzles, especially when combined with Court Records. She also became a Life Member of AGS. How is that for recruiting?

Look for those Family Bibles and personal letters--yours, or any that you hear of! Let's persuade everyone we can to allow the Arkansas History Commission to microfilm this irreplaceable information. Be sure it is made clear that any records furnished for microfilming will be returned unharmed.

Have a good winter holiday season. Ask a lot of questions about the family's history while you are with relatives during the holidays!

Sincerely,

Ed Sanders

DIED

In this town, on Sunday night last, after a long and lingering illness, of consumption, Mr. Joseph Rutherford, carpenter, aged about 29 years. He was a native of the state of Missouri - an ingenious and industrious mechanic, and a worthy and useful citizen. By his premature death, his disconsolate wife and infant daughter have been bereft of an affectionate husband and tender parent.

In this vicinity, on Sunday morning last, William, infant son of Mr. William Marcus, aged 10 days.

Yesterday afternoon, at the residence of his father, 10 miles south of this place, after an illness of only 2 or 3 days, of Influenza, Mr. George W. McHenry, eldest son of Mr.
 Archibald McHenry, aged about 26 years. It was only last week that we recorded the death of one of his Sisters. Thus, in the short space of less than two weeks, have his afflicted parents been bereft of two promising adult children, who have been suddenly snatched from them by the had of death.

In this county, on the 26 ult., Mr. Charles S. Legate, aged about 60 years.

In Hempstead county, on the 22d Nov., of a most afflicting and protracted illness of pulmonary consumption, Mrs. Elizabeth Fowler, wife of John H. Fowler, Esq. The latter part of her illness was borne with perfect resignation and christian fortitude, evincing to the satisfaction of her friends a full preporation for the Kingdom of Glory. Her death is deeply lamented by her afflicted husband and orphan children - but it has been for her infinite gain, for she has passed from gloom to glory. Ark. Gazette, Little Rock, Dec. 9, 1854.

An Early Arkansas Tragedy

The following report appears in the Daily Arkansas Gazette, 23 Jan 1872, p. 1, columns 2-3:

"Ouachita--The Camden Journal furnishes the following particulars of the murder of a Mr. Williams, living between that city and Washington, heretofore mentioned in the Gazette is a paragraph copied from the Washington Telegraph:

This much we know through the statements of Mrs. Williams, wife of the murdered man: She states that Joseph Arnold (colored) on the night of the 14th inst. killed her husband, while he was asleep, by severing his head, with a blow from an ax, almost entirely from his body, and afterward attempted to commit an outrage on her person. The party implicated has been arrested and is now in jail, where we hope he will remain but a short time until taken to the gallows, if the charges against him be true."

Families interconnected with the Williamses have preserved this story in remarkably accurate oral form, with only the place where the family was living at the time being in dispute. Because of doubt as to the location, documentation was discovered only in 1984.

It was known that a "Mr. Williams," whose given name was unknown, married Mary, the youngest daughter of Solomon and Susannah (Traylor) Delaughter, who brought their seven sons and seven daughters from Edgefield District, SC to Clark County, AR ca. 1849. It was also known that the Williams couple had a very young daughter, always called 'Willie,' who survived the assault upon the family when her mother ran with her to the nearest neighbor's house. It was further said that the widow of Mr. Williams was later married to Blake Bryant in Dallas Co.

From these facts, the records could be searched and interpreted. Not knowing the given name of "Mr. Williams" made a straightforward search impossible, so it had to begin with his wife, Mary Delaughter, d/o Solomon and Susannah:

The 1860 Federal Census, Arkansas, Ouachita Co., Behestian Twp,
17 Jul 1860, p. 75 records:

521/532

Delaughter, Solomon	64 M	farmer	SC
Susan	62 F		SC
Mary	18 F		SC
Benjamin	16 M		SC
Ramsey	36 M	farmer	SC

Three houses away, there is found:

524/535

Russell, Miss Lucy	40 F	farmer	TN
Simpson	17 M		MS
James	13 M		AR
Thomas	11 M		AR
Jesse	8 M		AR
Milly	7 F		AR
Frazier	1 M		AR

Williams, Jesse T.	37 M	farmer	TN
---------------------------	-------------	---------------	-----------

The 1870 Census for Arkansas, Ouachita Co., Behestian Twp., 28
Aug 1870, p. 6 lists:

50/50

Williams, Jesse	47 M	farmer	TN
M. E.	27 F		SC
Willie	1 F		AR

The column 'married within the year' is checked, but no month is stated.

The 1880 Census for Arkansas, Dallas Co., Owen Twp lists:

Bryant, Blake		W M	68	farmer	NC
Mary	wife	W F	39		SC
Katie	dau	W F	9/12		AR
Louvenia	dau	W F	9/12		AR
Williams, W.C.	s/dau	W F	10		AR

Examining the census records bears out the family tradition. In 1860, in Ouachita Co., Arkansas, Jesse T. Williams, a 37-year-old farmer born in Tennessee, was living in the house of Lucy Russell, three years older and also born in Tennessee. Lucy has no husband in the house, but has six children, the oldest 17 and the youngest aged 1 year. The fourth child of Lucy is a boy named Jesse. Lucy Russell is the head of the household, and must be recently widowed or deserted. Jesse T. Williams is most likely her younger, unmarried or widowed, brother for whom she named her fourth child. Her brother has come to work her farm and help with the bringing up of her six children until one of her sons is old enough to assume that duty, or Lucy is remarried.

Near the Russell/Williams family are the Delaughters, a family of aged parents, with two children, Mary and Benjamin, nearing maturity and an unmarried son, Ramsey, in his late thirties. The Civil War comes less than a year after the 1860 census. Ramsey Delaughter, with two of his brothers, loses his life in that war. Now, it falls to Mary to care for her aged parents. The mother dies in 1863; the father in 1866.

In 1868, the middle-aged bachelor/widower farmer from Tennessee, three houses down the road, needs a companion. Mary's parents are deceased and her youngest brother is 24 years old and can shift for himself. Mary also needs a companion. Despite the difference in ages (20 years) Jesse T. Williams and Mary B. Delaughter are married and soon have a daughter, Willie C., born 03 Aug 1869.

When Willie was just two years old, her 48-year-old father was murdered 14 Jan 1872. She and her mother barely escaped. Willie's mother, the widowed Mary (Delaughter) Williams, married an elderly widower, Blake Bryant, in Dallas Co. and bore him twin daughters, the future Katie Darby and Louvenia Posey when Willie was 10 years old.

At age 16, Willie fell in love with a neighbor, 21-year-old William Frank Morris, and they were married with her mother's consent conveyed to the Clark Co. Clerk by affidavit of a neighbor, A.W. Fite, who stated: "I know that Mrs. Mary Bryant has given her consent for her daughter Willie Williams to marry W. F. Morris. She told me so last Wednesday at her house in Dallas County." The date of the marriage was 21 Jan 1886, (Clark Co., AR, Marriage Records, Bk. L, p. 446).

Four children were born to this union--Rufus, Frances (Fannie), Jesse W. and Robert Oliver--then Willie died 16 Mar 1894 at age 25 and was buried in an unmarked grave in Sardis Cemetery,

Jesse T. Williams Family--Ed Sanders--p. 4

Pine Grove, Dallas Co., AR. Frank married again and died 26 Oct 1899. His body was buried in the Halfway Cemetery, on the Hollywood-Antoine Road, in Clark Co.

Mary E. (Williams, nee Delaughter) Bryant died 13 July 1924 and was buried in the Sparkman Cemetery, Dallas County, which her younger brother, Benjamin, had donated.

Doubtless, more could be known of the family of Jesse T. and Mary E. (Delaughter) Williams, except that the Ouachita County Courthouse burned in 1875, taking with it most of the county's records.

DIED - At his residence at Helena, on the evening of the 31st ult., after a painful illness of between two and three months, Col. Sylvanus Phillips, in the 65th year of his age. He was one of our earliest settlers, having emigrated to the country before its cession to the U. States in 1803, and has filled several public situations under the different Governments that have exercised jurisdiction over the country, the duties of which were discharged with fidelity to his country and credit to himself. He was an ardent and sincere friend, an obliging neighbor, and respectable and enterprizing citizen. To his family and numerous connexions, his death is deeply afflictng, and it is sincerely deplored by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. Ark. Gazette, Little Rock, Nov. 10, 1830

MARION COUNTY

By Earl Berry

The area now comprising Marion County was a part of the Louisiana Territory, owned by France from 1682 until ceded to Spain by the treaty of Fontainebleau in 1762. Spain governed this sparsely settled area whose inhabitants were largely of French descent until 1800 when Spain ceded the territory back to France. France held this area from October 1800 until the whole Louisiana Territory was purchased by President Jefferson for the United States in 1803. The Congress of the United States on October 21, 1803, ratified the purchase treaty.

In 1812, the Territory of Louisiana by an Act of Congress became known as the Missouri Territory. The Territory of Missouri was divided into districts, later to be known as counties. New Madrid County was one of the largest counties in the Missouri Territory; and on January 15, 1815, the Territorial legislature of Missouri formed the County of Lawrence out of New Madrid County. The County of Lawrence so created was located in what is now southern Missouri and a great part of what is now North Central Arkansas. Lawrence County remained a part of the Territory of Missouri until 1819 when the Congress of the United States created the Territory of Arkansas and most of Lawrence County became one of the five counties that made up the newly created Territory of Arkansas. In 1819, the territory comprising Lawrence County contained more than half of the area of the northeastern half of the present State of Arkansas and a part of southern Missouri. In area Lawrence County was the largest of the five counties in the Territory of Arkansas but was not as thickly inhabited as some of the counties.

In 1825, the Territorial Legislature created the County of IZARD out of territory formerly in the western part of Lawrence County.

In 1835, the citizens of IZARD County petitioned the General Assembly of the Territorial Legislature of Arkansas: "That all that portion of the County of IZARD, beginning at a point on the Missouri State Line at the Range line between Range 13 and Range 14 and running South along said Range line to the White River and thence up to the Buffalo Fork to the mouth of Big Creek; thence up Big Creek to where Big Creek forks some miles above what is called "The Rock House"; thence south to the Van Buren County line so as to include Wiley's Cove in the newly created county; thence westwardly to the southeast corner of Carroll County; thence North along the east boundary line of Carroll County to the Missouri State line; thence East along the Missouri State Line to the place of beginning", for the formation of a new county which was to be called Marion County. The General Assembly, however, at the time of the passage of the Act in 1835 changed the proposed name to Searcy County in honor of a distinguished fellow citizen, the Honorable Richard Searcy, deceased.

On September 29, 1836, the First General Assembly, by an Act of this First General Assembly in compliance with the wishes of the citizens of the area as expressed in the original petition substituted the original name of Marion in place of Searcy, and by Section I of the Act declared that the county thereafter should be called and known as Marion County.

MARION COUNTY

Thus the county was named in honor of General Francis Marion, a daring Revolutionary War general referred to the British as, 'Old Swamp Fox'.

As created Marion County contained nearly all of the territory now comprising Baxter County, all Marion County, practically all of Searcy County, and parts of Newton, Boone and Fulton Counties.

The temporary seat of Marion County when it became a county in 1836, was established in the home of John Adams and the first court was held in the log house of John Adams south of Yellville. The county seat was soon moved to the village of Yellville--formerly known as Shawnee town or Shanty Town, an Indian village located on the north side of Crooked Creek inhabited by Shawnee Indians. Yellville was near the center of the county and was on the military road leading from Batesville to Fayetteville. Yellville is and has been the county seat except for a brief time in 1870 when it was moved to the town of Sherman located on White River near Denton's Ferry. We have been unable to find an explanation for the move or what happened to the town of Sherman.

Some interesting stories have been handed down as to the origin of the name--Yellville. The popular and generally accepted story is that Archibald Yell while campaigning for Governor visited the area and told the "city fathers" that if they would name the city in his honor that he would donate $100.00 to the city. Legend has it that it was so named but the $100.00 was never received. Another story is that the Shawnee Chief lived in 'Shanty Town' village but many of the warriors and hunters of his tribe lived along the banks of Crooked Creek and that when the Chief wanted his tribesmen to gather for a raid or a hunt he rose early and went to a high bluff on the north side of Crooked Creek and from a big rock on the bluff he gave the war cry or 'yelled' for their assembly. From this came the name "Yellville".

It is not known when the first white men visited the area now known as Marion County but legend has it that DeSoto, the Spanish explorer and his part, in search of the fabled "Fountain of Youth" came as far North and, perhaps, camped for sometime in the winter of 1541 at what is now known as De Soto Springs in the southern part of the county near the Buffalo River before turning South to Hot Springs. History does not indicate that Spain claimed any of the area by right of discovery and exploration.

As indicated earlier the area now comprising Marion County was originally occupied by Indians, probably of the Osage Tribe. As the Osage Tribe moved Westward, the area became the home of the Shawnees, and many of the early white settlers came to the region not to establish homes but as hunters, trappers and fishermen and to trade with the friendly Indians. Some of them married Indians and many of the pioneer families had more or less of Indian blood. From this mingling of the races, many of those who came as hunters, trappers, traders and fishermen settled, built their homes, cleared the land, built schools, roads, and churches and became in truth, the builders of Marion County. Later they were joined by their relatives and friends from Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, and Missouri.

MARION COUNTY

Since Arkansas did not become a State until 1836, the earliest Census Record of Marion County is the 1840 census. The following census records of Marion County are taken from Chapter Twelve--Pioneer Families of Marion County--compiled and written by Mrs. Effie Thompson for A History of Marion County published in 1977.

The 1850 Census of Marion County shows a goodly number of new heads of families as well as most of the family heads listed in the 1840 Census Record, but lack of space prohibits listing of all family heads shown in the 1850 records. Suffice it to say of the 368 heads of families listed and their occupations, the vast majority were farmers. Other occupations listed are: blacksmiths, physicians, preachers, wagon makers, tanners, merchants, carpenters, millerites, cabinet makers, teachers, gunsmiths, Attorneys at Law, and miners. Other prominent families of Marion County who came to the county prior to the Civil War were: Angel, Bearden, James H. Berry family, Black, and Henry Hardin Burch family, Joseph Burleson family, Rube Carson family, Denton, Doshier, Estes, Hand, Huddleston, W. C. Jenkins family, Keeter, Layton, McBee, McCracken, a son, Jefferson Thomas McCracken was one of the first white children born in Marion County, November 29, 1830, though the family is not listed in either the 1840 or 1850 Census, John Ott family, Captain Wm. C. Pace family, Patterson, Sanders, Sims, Thomas Smith family, William P. Thompson family, Wilson, Isaac Wolf family, Yocham family, George Young family. Many other pioneer families not listed here came to the county prior to the Civil War.

When the Civil War broke out there were few slave holders in Marion County, but most of the citizens of the county sympathized with the South and joined the Confederacy. Among those who became officers in the Confederate

MARION COUNTY

Army were Captain A. S. (Uncle Sud) Wood, the first white child born in Marion County; Captain Jefferson Thompson McCracken, Captain William Carroll Pace, Captain Cravens, and others who were loyal to the Confederacy. There were other pioneer families loyal to the Union and their fathers and sons served with honor and distinction in the Union Army. While the Civil War brought hardships, suffering, and family divisions, brother against brother and father against son, luckily when the war was over, the bitterness and hatred was put aside, for the most part, and families were reunited and began to rebuild what had been destroyed.

Volume II of the Historical Report of the Secretary of State of Arkansas - 1978 - Page 264 lists the County Officials of Marion County from 1836 to 1850 as shown below:

1836-38	T.E.Everett	Wm. Kavanaugh	H.B.Tutt	J.B.Hudson
1838-40	Wm. Wood	Jesse Goodman	J.B.Everett	J.B.Hudson
1840-42	T.E.Everett	J.M.Cowdrey	J.B.Everett	J.B.Hudson
1842-44	John Hargrave	J.M.Cowdrey	T.B.Wood	James Cage

In summarizing, the boundary lines of Marion County as described in the Act creating the County have been changed from time to time so that the present Marion County area is only a small part of Marion County of 1836. Today Marion County is bounded on the North by Missouri, the East by Baxter County, on the South by Searcy County, and on the West by Boone County and by Newton County on the southwest corner. The principal streams are White River, Buffalo River, Little North Fork of White River, and Crooked Creek, all important in the early history of the County for both transportation and for the better agricultural lands as well as for the fish as a source of food.

Topographically, the land consists of the valley land along the streams, the level land or prairie land formerly known as Flippin Barrens, Cowan Barrens, and Kings Prairie and the hilly and mountainous land rich in lead and zinc ore, and from one of the early mines, the Morning Star in the Rush Creek District, on the largest mass of free carbonate ore ever extracted was taken. A part of this mass of ore is on exhibit in the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, DC.

The building of Bull Shoals Dams on White River, begun in 1948 and officially dedicated by President Harry S. Truman in 1952 has done more, perhaps, than any other event in the history of Marion County, to change the industry, the life of its people, and the growth of the population. While all of this is considered progress, one wonders if something valuable has been lost--the spirit of friendliness, cooperation, love for homeland and a sense of belonging--the putting down of roots for a permanent home.

A brief history of Marion County submitted by Earl Berry for The Arkansas Family Historian. Mr. Berry's address is 815 N. Arthur, Little Rock, AR 72205.

GENEALOGICAL AND PROGRESS DATA OF THE WARD FAMILY

By Prather Lee Ward

April 8, 1985

According to the 1910 Federal Census of Alexandria, Louisiana, Rapides Parish, Army discharge papers, and certificate of death record of my grandfather, Prather Ward, the information and data has been recorded as follows.

The 1910 census listed my great grandfather, Charles A. Ward, as head of the household. His age at the time of the census was 63, married once for 26 years. His wife, (Jennie Lucille Smith) age at time of census is 45, also married once for 26 years. The place of birth for both of them shows Arkansas.

The death record of my grandfather, Prather Ward, shows that his parents, Charles and Jennie were both born in Arkansas; Charles Ward in Pine Bluff, and Jennie Smith, in Little Rock. Pine Bluff is in Jefferson County, and Little Rock is in Pluski County.

The age on the 1910 census puts Charles Ward being born either 1846 or 1847. Jennie Smith would be either 1864 or 1865.

The 1910 census shows that five children were born to this Ward family, but only three are listed on this census.

Ina V., daughter, age 23, single, born in Arkansas. Cecil, son, age 13, single, born in Louisiana. Prather, son, age 20, married not quite a year (The date on other records shows he was married on February 16, 1910.

Prather's wife, (Lillian Addeline Brister), age 18, born in Louisiana (my records show born on January 23, 1892).

On this 1910 census it shows that Prather Ward was born in Arkansas. Other information shows his birthplace to be Aransas Pass, Texas. His army discharge papers show he was born in Orange, Texas, on January 9, 1890, in which I assume is correct.

The other two children of Charles Ward, not shown on this 1910 census are, Allie Ward, no dates known and Welby Ward who was the oldest son, but there are no dates to prove this at this time.

From the above information, a time span was made as follows.

1. Charles A. Ward, born 1846 or 1847, Arkansas, married, 1883 or 1884, Arkansas. One of his daughters, Ina V. was born in Arkansas in 1886 or 1887.
2. One of his sons, Prather Ward, my grandfather, was born in 1890, in Texas.
3. One of his sons, Cecil Ward, was born 1896 or 1897 in Louisiana.
4. The 1910 census, shows family in Louisiana.

Thus

1. Between 1846 through 1886 or 1887 they were in Arkansas.
2. Between 1886 or 1887 they came to Texas.
3. Between 1890 through 1896 or 1897 they came to Louisiana.
4. 1896 or 1897 through 1910 they were in Louisiana.

The 1910 census shows that Charles Ward, and his son Prather Ward were in the lumber business, in Louisiana.

At this time, April 8, 1985, there is no record of who Charles Ward's father was, nor his mother. There is a Dr. W. Guy Ward and his wife A. Harrison in my records, that shows that these might have been his parents, but no proof is given. Also in my records a James Smith and his wife Mary E. was Jennie's (Charles' wife's) parents, but again no proof is given.

The 1910 census does show that Charles Ward's father was born in Virginia, and his mother was born in Arkansas.

On May 13, 1985, information was obtained that Charles Ward died in either 1923 or 1924 in Alexandria, Louisiana, and was buried in Pineville, Louisiana, just across the Red River from Alexandria, but still no month or day. On May 14, 1985, I sent a request to the Louisiana State Board of Health for his death record.

The information on the children of Charles Ward is as follows.

1. Ina V., married John Landry, one child also named Ina.
2. Welby, oldest child, first wife's name unknown, had three children. Dorthy, Vivian, and Welby Jr. (not really sure of Welby Jr. name).
3. Allie Ward, married Arlie B. Ney, four children, Lucille, Alton, Charles, and Jack. Lucille had a daughter named Betty who married J. Rhorer Texada (pronounced, Tehada) who lives in Alexandria, Louisiana.
4. Cecil Ward, no information available.
5. Prather Ward, married Lillian Addeline Brister, had three children. Herman Lee Ward, a daughter also named Prather, and Pete Fritz Ward, my father.

Much later on, after my grandfather Prather died, my grandmother, which I called Nina, remarried to her husband's brother Welby, no children by this marriage. This was his second marriage.

Charles Ward's wife Jennie had relatives it is told, whose name was Nutt, but no other information is given, only that the Nutt family lived in Mississippi.

My grandfather Prather Ward joined the Army shortly after his son Herman Lee was born in 1917 (January 11, 1917). Herman saw him on a couple of occasions at a very early age, about six years old. He never really knew his father. My father Pete Fritz was born November 30, 1913, but also never really knew him.

The name Prather I have been told came from a Dr. Prather, that Charles and Jennie knew and was a friend as well as a doctor of the family. They named their son Prather after this doctor, but there is no proof of this. I was named after my grandfather Prather and my middle name Lee was from my uncle, Herman Lee Ward.

The 1850 census in Arkansas does not list a Charles Ward living or born in Pine Bluff, Jefferson County, but it does show a Charles Ward age 4 in Jackson, in Union County, Arkansas. This age puts my Charles Ward the same birthdate of 1846. It also shows the head of household to be Jefferson Ward, age 39, born in Georgia, and his wife Frances, born in Alabama, age 28. It lists three sisters and two brothers, but still no real proof this is my Ward family.

As recorded earlier on May 14, 1985, I sent to the Louisiana State Board of Health for a death record of my great grandfather Charles A. Ward. On June 20, 1985, I received the certificate of death of Charles A. Ward, and it lists the following information. He died on June 11, 1925, at the age of 63. This puts his date of birth in 1862. Name of father is T. W. Ward, birthplace, Virginia. Name of mother is Virginia Harrison, birthplace Arkansas. It lists Charles Ward's occupation at time of death as a shipping clerk for Enterprize Labor Company in Alexandria, Louisiana. This new information shows an error as far as the birth-year of Charles Ward in the 1910 Louisiana Census.

CONFEDERATE PENSIONERS
Conway, Ark., Feb. 11, 1901

Editor:

Presuming that a list of Confederate pensioners of this county would be a matter of general interest, I herewith give you a complete list as given me by the county clerk.

This list should be, and was intended to be a roll of honor. Just how many on it that should not be there the public will easily decide. The rising generation, or in other words, the state of Arkansas has ever been most generous to the Confederate soldiers (God bless them) and I very much fear sometimes that this great kindness may be abused. Heaven grant that avarice and greed in this matter may not some day produce a reaction in the minds of those coming after us, which will defeat and overwhelm this noble and generous spirit.

The state legislature has now in contemplation a very much extended system of pensions and most probably it will become law and in this connection I appeal to every worthy Confederate soldier to use every endeavor to keep every unworthy applicant off the list.

My earnest prayer is that the day may never come when the name of a Confederate soldier may become a stench in the land that his comrades died for and for which he has suffered so much.

Yours etc.,
W.D. Cole

BOOK REVIEWS (It is difficult, no impossible, for a reviewer to review one's own books, therefore, the following is a listing of new publications donated to AGS Library by the compiler(s).

The ARKANSAS GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY has named as one of its Arkansas Sesquicentennial projects, the reconstruction of the 1890 Census of Arkansas. This census for the entire country was destroyed by fire in Washington in 1921. For the most part, this reconstruction is being done through the use of county tax records in each of Arkansas' 75 counties. Several counties have been completed, and others are in progress.

1890 CENSUS "RECONSTRUCTION" FOR GARLAND AND MONTGOMERY COS., AR
Compiled by Inez Halsell Cline, Bobbie Jones McLane, and Wendy Bradley Richter, 175 pp., soft cover, spiral binding, $10.00.

The compilers have attempted to reconstruct this census in Montgomery Co. using the 1890 tax receipt book, listing the taxpayer, date paid, section description, number of acres, value and school district. A map is included indicating the location and names of townships and school districts. The loss of census records is particularly acute in Garland Co. due to disastrous fires which destroyed almost all records just after the turn of the century. For Garland Co. several resources were combined, such as city directories, the 1888 Arkansas Gazeteer and Business Directory, marriage and tombstone records for the years 1887 thru 1892. A map of the city of Hot Springs in the 1888 Gazeteer is included as is a map and key showing the locations of the cemeteries mentioned in the text. The compilers, all natives of Garland Co., wanted their county included in this Sesquicentennial project. Knowing all official records had been destroyed, they sought other means to acquire this data - where there's a will - there's a way!

Do you have an unpublished cemetery inventory? an unpublished Bible record? family records? If so, do consider sharing these materials with our readers. So many valuable records are in private hands, and unless they are shared through a genealogical journal, or some other printed form, they will not be of much use to anyone but the current owner. Other items that are hard to get are newspaper items. If you have some spare time, consider abstracting some death notices, or other records. We all have been faced with the problem of being a thousand miles from source materials, and always are grateful to those who take the time to send hard to get materials to genealogical journals. Now it is your time to show your thanks to some one, and share some material with a genealogical publication!

New at the Arkansas History Commission: 1860 Index to the Federal Census of Texas and Arkansas. Coming soon will be an index to the 1870 Census of the state of Tennessee. Also, just arrived from the National Archives Old War Pension Applications. The update for the Ancestry File just arrived recently. Be sure and check on your surnames on this update on your next visit to the History Commission.

1986 Dues for AGS are now being accepted! Please help us be more efficient, as well as cutting costs, by mailing your dues in now. We know the rush of the Holiday Season is upon you, but do take a moment of your time and renew. That way, it will not be there for you to do later in the season, when things really get hectic!
